Our High School Problem will be the subject of an open forum discussion at the next regular meeting of the Mokena PTA to be held Tuesday evening, 8 p.m., November 28, 1950 in the school gym-auditorium. This discussion, which will follow a short business meeting, will be led by Mrs. Albert Cappel, our principal. A three man panel of experts, will be composed of Mr. Oster who will answer questions regarding the several possible solutions to the high school problem, Mr. Kohl, who will speak on assessed valuation and taxes, and Mr. Connors, an architect. NEW FORDS TO BE ON DISPLAY LOCALLY FRI.

The new 1951 Ford passenger cars, featuring new power combinations, automatic ride control, and many refinements in styling, engineering, comfort and safety will be placed on display Friday, November 24 in the showrooms of Cooper & Hostert Garage in Mokena and A. C. Bauch at Frankfort, it was announced today by Mr. Elmer Cooper of Mokena and Mr. Arthur C. Bauch of Frankfort. They state the new Fords offer a choice of six power combinations, Ford's new fully automatic transmission, the Ford over drive and the standard 3-speed transmission, an available either with the 100 H. P. V-8 or the advanced 95 H. P. I-6 engines. There are 16 models in the 1951 line.

The new automatic transmission is called "Fordomatic Drive." The result of more than four years of research, it is the combination of hydraulic torque converter and an automatic planetary gear transmission which operate together for maximum performance and efficiency and smooth flow of power.

Another outstanding feature of the 1951 car is the new automatic ride control made possible by a combination of advanced type shock absorbers and a new type of spring suspension which combine to compensate for all types of road surfaces.

The new cars also offer the widest range of body colors and upholstery and interior trim combinations in Ford car history.

Many front and rear end appearance changes have been made, including adoption of a "dual spinner" radiator grille for a lower and more massive effect, larger and stronger wrap around bumpers.

Rear deck lids have concealed counter-balancing hinges and a new key release latch for ease in opening and keeping the lids raised for loading or unloading the luggage compartment.

The chassis frame has been strengthened and a number of important engine changes were made. Both V-8 and Six engines now have automatic expansion control pistons whose top rings are chrome-plated to prevent scuffing of cylinder walls. All engines now have the new water-proof ignition systems and rotating valves.

Just Been Thinkin'

As November nears its end, I grow homesick once again... for nothing in the world is so nostalgic to me as my memories of the old homestead... and even now, thru the mist of years, I live again those days which made my boyhood so well remembered... why, it seems only yesterday that it was—

THANKSGIVING On The FARM

We picked the biggest punkin'—
Just my brother Tom and I
But we could hardly get it home
For Ma to bake the pie...
Then Tommy got his knees all skinned
From chasin' down the "turk"—
Course, Dad's old hands are calloused red
From all the harvest work...
And Mom, she's not much better off
She's got her work to do:
She's got to make the stuffing and
To roast the gobbler, too...
The kitchen smells so wonderful—
The cranberries and all
Has Tom and me a-watchin' and Awaitin' dinner call
Our mouths are waterin' to eat—
Thanksgivin' sure is fun
Except it takes a long, long time
To get the cookin' done...
Oh, boy! at last Mom rings the bell
To us it seems so late
That Tommy grabs a drumstick and Starts drummin' on his plate...
I take a dumplin' and a yam,
My tummy says "Hooray"
But Mom says "Just a minute, boys
We first... of all... must pray!"

Continue Discussion Of School Question

The seventh in a series of meetings on "Public Education" in Orland township was held Tuesday night in the Orland Park Lutheran church. Two reports were made, one by Ms. Margaret Loebe and Mrs. Elizabeth Bowyer on the pros and cons of the question. "Should the Orland High school district purchase the Orland Grade school building and remodel it for use by the high school while the grade school would erect a new building elsewhere in Orland Park?"

The second report by Mrs. Wanda Bullock and Mrs. John Lohmann presented the pros and cons of this question. "Should the Orland High school district consolidate with Frankfort, New Lenox and the north part of Manhattan townships if these three Will county townships form their own high school district and if they are willing to accept us?"

Everyone in Orland and adjacent townships who are interested are welcome to attend these meetings.

Church Group Sees Rare Exhibit

The touring group visited the Rockefeller Memorial chapel while the carillon was being played. They were also at Ellis Community center and had supper together at the International House.

Cavalcade of Songs Given At B. I. Nov 26 by Liederkrantz

To boast of a rare musical treat is not the proper thing to do unless the boast may be proved. But the consensus of opinions seem to lead toward the fact that the Liederkrantz chorus of Blue Island is one that can back up this boast. Because they have the reputation of being the outstanding chorus on the south side of Cook county.

This chorus will give a concert Sunday evening, November 26 starting at 6:30 p.m. in the Eagle's hall in Blue Island. Residents of this area who look forward to these concerts will have the opportunity of again attending.

A cavalcade of songs, under the energetic and dynamic leadership of Esther Rehberg with Ruth Hillinger as accompanist is the offering.

The committee in charge consists of Karl Sterzel, chairman; Adeline Dascenzi, Kurt Reiche; and Elizabeth Buer. They invite all to attend and enjoy the fellowship of friendly music lovers who work in harmony as well as their splendid offering of songs.

TINLEY BOYS BREAK MOKENA ST. LIGHT BULBS

The villages of Tinley Park and Mokena are becoming still more intercommunicating as was evidenced recently when five boys from Tinley Park traveled to Mokena bent on mischief.

These boys, ages 16-17 seemed to be enjoying themselves by breaking the street lights with BB guns. They had broken three lights on Midland avenue when they were reported and David McMillan, village trustee, picked them up and brought them before Judge John Balaz's court in Mokena. The boys pleaded guilty and offered to pay the damages which they caused which amounted to $34.

Although no warrant was sworn out their names are on record. The boys did pay their fine as they were not willing their parents should become acquainted with their serious misdemeanor. Besides being expensive to replace the street bulbs, but with them no lighted makes traveling at night rather dangerous.

Boys of the ages as these were are old enough to realize responsibility toward their fellowman and as a worthwhile citizen.

At the same time boys in Tinley Park broke bulbs in street lights in that village by the same means. It is also unlawful to shoot BB guns in village limits.

EDITOR'S COMPACT

Signed at the Re-dedication of Plymouth Rock, June 25, 1950, at Plymouth, Mass., styled after the Mayflower Compact of 1620.

— COMPACT —

In the name of God, Amen.

"We, whose names are underwritten, members of the National Editorial Association, and loyal Americans, by the grace of God, having established by unanimous resolutions our solemn conviction in the virtue of integrity based upon self respect and honest toil and our considered appreciation of the heritage of strong character, thrift, hard work, upright dealing, unselfish devotion to public welfare and of our Christian faith, we do covenant by this mid-Century Pilgrimage at Plymouth Rock in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and fifty, in the presence of God and one another, reaffirm our steadfast faith in the true ideals of Liberty and Justice for all upon which this nation was founded, and re-dedicate ourselves to the eternal perpetuation of these sacred precepts. We do hereby bind ourselves with this Compact at Plymouth in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, this twenty-fifth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifty."

We think it most fitting to give to our readers the address given at Plymouth Rock, at Plymouth, Mass., on June 25 where the National Editorial Association members spent one day on their annual national meeting and held a Re-dedication of Plymouth Rock. The address was given by Alan C. McIntosh, publisher of the Star-Herald of Luverne, Minn.

His speech in part follows:

"From the four corners of this nation the members of the National Editorial Association have journeyed here today. These are the newspapermen and women from small cities and towns of America. These are the editors who, next to the clergymen and doctors, hold the closest intimacy with the families of their communities. These are the men and women who mold the lives and thinking of the real heart of America.

"We stand here today with reverent humility. The ground on which we stand is hallowed ground—hallowed for eternity by the sacrifices of our Pilgrim forefathers. This rock we now face is no ordinary mass of stone. It is an ageless shrine for every patriot. This is the rock that stands as a thundering rebuke to those who say there can be changing standards of morality for individual and government."

THIS IS PLYMOUTH ROCK
This simple ceremony today cannot be a re-dedication of Plymouth Rock. It was dedicated and consecrated for all time three centuries ago by those who died that we might walk as free men.

"This is a re-dedication instead of our lives so that we can rekindle in the hearts of our countrymen the noblest flames of Pilgrim idealism on the altars of patriotism."

"Scheming men have tried to bring us, like the Mayflower's captain into false harbors of foreign ideologies not of our choosing. We have been endangered by cowardly navigators who would rather run with the winds of popular opinion than fight against the storm to stay on course.

"Our Ship of State wallows in a trough of debt, buffeted by the winds of special privilege and the pressure of vociferous minorities. It drifts perilously close to the reef of disaster marking the belief that the government should support the people rather than the people support the government."

"It is time that we resolve to work and live by the same true stars of ideals that guided the Pilgrims. They do not belong only to the emblazoned pages of history. So long as men's hearts still burn with the belief that a man has the right to individual liberty and the right to worship as he chooses, then the Pilgrim spirit still lives.

"Before the Pilgrims set foot on this rock, they first met in the crude dingy cabin of the Mayflower. It was there they laid for all time the cornerstone of all the Republican institutions of America. It was in that tiny cabin that the first town meeting was held.

"It was there that the hand of God helped the Pilgrims write the immortal Mayflower compact that still lights up the sky of the world with the nobility of its purpose. And when the Pilgrims set foot on this rock, they knelt and gave thanks to God.

"Cynics would say, 'For what?' Truly it took stout hearts to face that waste of sand hills and sea grass, swamps and briars, wind-bent trees and unknown savages. The Pilgrims faced realities. We seek out the snug harbors of Utopia where we can avoid all struggle while we sniff the deadly opium that deludes us into thinking we can get something in life for nothing.

"Those Displaced Persons of 1620 had to survive or perish by their own efforts. And perish half of them did that first cruel winter. But that price of freedom was not too high, for it is to their eternal glory that none turned back for England the next year.

"The Pilgrims came here with the same burning desire we echo today—the wish for security and freedom. But they sought the true security of real freedom—not the prison type where independence of action is forfeited. They could have had that by remaining in England.

"Plymouth Rock is more than just a bridge over which the Pilgrims crossed from the Old to the New World. It serves as a monument to the American way of life."

"It was the love of freedom, not the lust for money, that impelled the Pilgrims to uproot their lives from England. They matched their lives against the funds raised by 70 merchants of England. We see here today in Plymouth Rock the monument to the American way which is based on the striving for individual freedom and individual gain. The names of the Pilgrims are emblazoned in gold on the immortal pages of history because they had the courage to dare. The seed they bore of religious freedom and popular government bore fruit upon the shores of a new land. We too can plant today the seed which will bear abundantly of the rich fruit of liberty and new hope to generations yet unborn.

"We cannot achieve this in our own strength alone. We must have God in our daily lives just as God was as much a part of the Pilgrim's daily life as his gun or his axe. We must have the same old fashioned willingness to freely acknowledge the existence of a supreme being.

"Plymouth Rock is the signpost of successful civilization, the marker that says this is the route taken by others who trod it safely before—that a successful civilization found this the right way to go. The trail blazed here by the Pilgrims tells us that this is the route. But it also warns us that there can be no painless road to freedom or

"We just can't buy freedom. We don't get freedom even by fighting for it. We only gain freedom by living it."

"These are the days that try the souls of men. Like the Pilgrims we can make no retreat from our rendezvous with destiny on the outcome of which depends the fate of our children's children.

"We cannot meet destiny by our strength alone. We must go forward armed with truth, the love of liberty, and sustained by faith in God."

"Plymouth Rock will stand here as a monument to liberty just so long as we in America have the courage to keep alive the principles of the Pilgrims. If we trade the precious birthright bequeathed by them to us for a mess of pottage from Washington, then it would be better if this rock would crumble to dust as civilization sinks into a morass of failure.

"We must maintain the sovereign dignity of the individual. We must fight the encroachment of bigness in government, business and unions upon the liberty of the individual. Let us join hands here today to strengthen and straighten the main beam of our great Ship of State so that it may sail majestically on thru the ocean of time.

"If we look up we find the same true stars to guide us on that led the Pilgrims to this new land. Like the Pilgrims, not all of us will survive but that in itself is not important. Our lives will be justified if the principles we believe to be right and true survive.

"We must rekindle in our hearts the simple faith in God that sustained the Pilgrims and cherish liberty of mankind above all worldly treasures. Let us lift our hearts up with prayerful confidence to the dawn of a new glory for America."

"The 330 years that have elapsed since the Pilgrims trod this rock are but a pinpoint on the panorama of time, but a landmark in the history of humanity. Because the record of what they achieved here is written for eternity.

"If we, too, can once again rekindle for America the fires of freedom and the yearning for true liberty, then we would not have made this pilgrimage of re-dedication in vain."

At the peak McLean county had about 330,000 acres of land in corn and 20-million bushel total yields are not uncommon.

U. S. dairymen produced 10-600,000,000 pounds of milk during August, according to a USDA report.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23 (Thanksgiving Day)

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help" (Psalm 121:1). Read Psalm 96.

Some very dear friends invited us to take a drive with them through some of the scenic hill country of northern New Jersey. The sky was blue and bright, the trees aglow in their autumnal dress.

We stopped during the morning to visit with some friends in their new home. The gracious wife pointed out some of the practical ideas and features of her home. Especially attractive to us were the large picture windows through which we could see the lovely natural beauty. We paused before the one in the dining room. She asked us to look at a small, white church, which we could plainly see in the distance. We gazed in awe at this serene picture and felt a surge of deep reverence.

She said she often paused there, during the morning, just to worship. Those moments, she felt, gave her new strength and courage for the day. We, too, had paused to worship Him and felt our hearts burning within as He spoke to us. We were thankful for the Church and the blessings of home and worship.

PRAYER

Our Father, we may not have a church steeple in our view to call us to our daily worship but we do have Thee. Wilt Thou preserve our going out and our coming in from this time forth and forevermore. In His name, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Do I have a surge of reverence and thanksgiving when I think of life's blessings?

Three Big Utilities Companies to Merge

Western United Gas and Electric Company and Illinois Northern Utilities Company will be merged into Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, Charles Y. Freeman, chairman of the latter company, announced today. Public Service Company securities will be issued in exchange for the outstanding securities of the Western United and Illinois Northern companies. There will be no public financing involved in the merger.

"It is imperative," Mr. Freeman said, "that the electric power generating stations and natural gas supplies of the three companies be integrated to meet the tremendously increased demands for electricity and natural gas."

The territory of these companies is contiguous and extends from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River and from the Illinois River to the Wisconsin state line. This area has had a large growth in population, bringing with it demands for more and more electric power and natural gas. According to the 1950 census, the ten-year increase in population in this area amounted to 381,000 people; and, along with the increase in population, innumerable small and large industries, factories and plants of every description were also established in this area. Electric steam generating stations and natural gas supplies must keep in advance of increasing population and industrial development.

"From 1940 to 1950, the electric load of the three companies increased 134%, and the gas used increased over 200%. The strategic location of electric steam generating stations must be determined and the natural gas supplies must be developed, in accordance with the distribution of increased population and the rapidly increasing number of industries. The trend of industrial development is toward the country where there is ample room for industries to build the type of plant which gives the greatest efficiency: all on one or two floors with plenty of room for expansion."

"As the system of each company has developed and grown, it has become increasingly evident from engineering studies that the most efficient and economical production and use of electric power and natural gas can be attained by inter-connecting and strategically locating the sources of electric power and supplies of natural gas. This plan will, through simplification, provide a more efficient means of furnishing adequate service to the area."

"Mr. Britton I. Budd, president of Public Service Company, will direct the management and operation of the enlarged organization. Mr. Murray D. Smith and Mr. Geo. Fluehr who have been directing Western United and Illinois Northern, respectively, will continue to direct their organizations as operating divisions of Public Service Company from their present headquarters in Aurora and Dixon.

From the standpoint of the people of the entire area, the integration of these three companies will be a distinct improvement in meeting future needs and will not disturb the individual status of the officers and employees of each company, or its close relationship with customers and communities."

ATOMIC ANGLER—Gordon Dean, chief of the Atomic Energy Commission, paused during his inspection tour of Western atomic installations to take in four days of trout fishing at Sun Valley, Ida. After hooking the limit in the mountain streams surrounding Sun Valley, the commission chairman resumed his tour.

Buy Christmas Seals

Three "angel children," one singing and the others playing musical accompaniment, are featured on the green and red Christmas Seals which are being prepared for mailing to Will County residents at headquarters of the Will County Tuberculosis Association. Mr. Lester DeGues, county seal sale chairman announced today.

County residents will receive the 1950 Seals in their mail November 20. Proceeds from the Seal Sale, which will be continued until Christmas, will finance the program of the Will County Tuberculosis Association.

Designer of this year's seal is Andre Dugo, internationally known artist, who also designed the 1943 Christmas Seal, said Mr. DeGues. Mr. Dugo's great love for children was also obvious seven years ago, he added, when his seal featured a pretty little girl hugging a doll as she watched the approach of Santa Claus.

Mr. Dugo's design was unanimously selected by the National Tuberculosis Associations Christmas Seal Sale Advisory Committee which selects the Seal each year from a number of designs submitted by artists from various parts of the country.

The seals were produced, as in previous years, by the National Association, with which the Will County Tuberculosis Association and 3,000 other voluntary tuberculosis associations are affiliated. Seals are supplied each year to associations in the 48 States and the District of Columbia and to Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the

In addition to the children, the Canal Zone, and to a number of foreign nations.

1950 seal features the red double-barred cross, insignia of the National Tuberculosis Association with which the Will County Tuberculosis Association is affiliated.

Early lambing during January, February and early March fits Illinois conditions best.

Rectangular corn cribs should not be wider than eight feet in Illinois unless mechanical driers are used.

Squint's Drumming
For Fair Play!

Squint Miller's mighty proud of the lot he owns that fronts on River Road—one of the prettiest spots around here.

He's been in a stew about it lately, though. Seems that trash-dumpers take one look at his property, stop their car or truck, and out goes a load of rubbish, spilling all over his place and the roadside, too. Wouldn't that make you mad?

Last night Squint dropped by the house. Over a friendly glass of beer, he tells me what he's done. "I put a couple of empty oil drums out there," he says, "with a big sign reading: 'If you must dump trash—use these—I like to keep my property clean!'"

From where I sit, Squint's sign should make any would-be roadside trash-dumpers pretty darned ashamed of themselves. Now and then some folks just have to be reminded that they ought to have as much regard for their neighbors' rights as they do for their own.

NEW LENOX

a Loose drive line is like a hole in your pocket!

Make sure the wheels in your truck get all the energy the engine sends them! A slip-up or weakness anywhere along the drive line wastes power, robs your truck of hauling efficiency, takes profits out of your pocket!

It pays to be sure about the condition of your truck's transmission, propeller shaft, universal joints, differential and axle shafts. When you get a check-up from our service specialists, you're averting possible breakdowns before they happen!

Why not come in and talk it over? We'll be glad to explain just what we do to keep running gear running right!

Mr. Dan Goldsmith, 3024 Curron Road, Louisville, Ky., owner of Coogla Cut Rate Store at 935 West Broadway, says there just aren't enough words in the English language to praise HADACOL correctly. He says he knows most folks don't realize what a change HADACOL can make in their life if their systems are deficient in Vitamins B, B₂, Iron and Niacin. Here is Mr. Goldsmith's statement:

"Before I started taking HADACOL I was run down and nervous—and had a hard time sleeping nights. With my work in the store I have to spend sometimes 14 hours a day on my feet. Since I am in the retail business I saw how many folks were asking for HADACOL so I decided to try it myself. After the first couple of bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I have all the pep and energy in the world, my nerves are steady as ever and I really do get a good night's rest. HADACOL is wonderful—I not only take it, but recommend it to all my customers. I praise the day Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc put HADACOL on the market."

HADACOL Is So Different
Thousands are benefiting from HADACOL... whose systems lack Vitamins B, B₂, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these great Vitamins and Minerals to every body organ—to every part of the body.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. © 1950, The LeBlanc Corporation.
